

About Us

The Liquamelt® System was developed by William "Bill" Stumphauzer, an engineering executive who recognized an opportunity in the marketplace for a safer, cost saving and low maintenance method to bond substrates that traditionally have been bonded with hot melt adhesives. Bill's development efforts resulted in the Liquamelt® System, a new and innovative, liquid, cold glue approach to adhesion that delivers a number of benefits to our customers. The Liquamelt® System is part of Liquid Polymer Corp., a company owned by employees and private investors.

Liquid Polymer Corp. is a total adhesive solutions company, dedicated to supplying our customers with a unique, high quality adhesive, reliable, low maintenance, easy-to-use application equipment, and a total commitment to customer satisfaction. We support your adhesive applications to give you time to run your business.

We are located in Lorain, OH, approximately 35 minutes from downtown Cleveland and 25 minutes from the Cleveland Hopkins International Airport.

```
var gaJsHost = (("https:" == document.location.protocol) ? "https://ssl." : "http://www.");
document.write(unescape("%3Cscript src=" + gaJsHost + "google-analytics.com/ga.js" type='text/javascript'%3E%3C/script%3E"));
```

```
try {
var pageTracker = _gat._getTracker("UA-7928833-1");
pageTracker._trackPageview();
} catch(err) {}
```